The Speech

Author's Notes:
I\'ve never published a poem fic before. It just came up...

I know you're gone now Hun,
But there's something I have
To get off my chest.
Your memories are scattered
Throughout our house
And many nights now,
I've been sitting with no rest.
Our band holds strong as you
Have left us.
And my heart still beats in
Time with yours.

Now is goodbye,

But it's not final,
We will see each other again.
And we will laugh and smile
Over our long ago
Memories
